WASHINGTON (AP) — Efforts to curb skyrocketing housing prices face substantial obstacles ranging from demand for decorative fireplaces and central air conditioning to restrictive suburban zoning laws, according to a group of housing experts.

The experts, attending a conference on housing prices, did not come up with new solutions to the housing cost spiral but called for an easing of government regulations and a modernization of industry practices as steps in the right direction.

The conference this week coincided with a government report showing that the selling price of a new home has doubled in the past 10 years.

The Commerce Department said the 5.3 per cent cost increase recorded during the past three months was twice the inflation rate of preceding quarters. The single family home that cost $24,600 in 1967 would sell for $52,300 today, according to the report.

Participants at the two-day conference sponsored by the National Association of Homebuilders included homebuilders, lenders, government officials and consumer representatives.

Jay Janus, undersecretary of housing and urban development, said no amount of federal activity is going to reverse the trend toward soaring housing costs but he vowed HUD efforts to slow the rate of increase.

One homebuilder official, declaring that "the major problem is land costs," said suburbs seeking to "zone-out" moderate and low-income homeowners keep the cost of housing high by prohibiting sales of small lots and by mandating excessively high building code standards.

Janus, a former builder, said higher home prices were due to higher costs of land, lot-development, labor and materials, and financing and closing.

Noting that attempts to sell "no-frills" homes have failed, Janus said moderate-income families looking for such homes could not afford them, even without knick-knacks and luxury appointments, because of high interest rates.

Because of the high cost of money, "The market was left largely to those who could afford the top of the line," he said.

Janus said statistics prove that most homebuyers still want amenities.

"The number of new homes with air conditioning increased from 25 per cent in 1965 to 45 per cent in 1975 to 49 per cent last year.

"The number of new homes sold with two or more bathrooms increased from 53 per cent to 66 per cent over the 1965-75 period," he said.

New homes with one or more fireplaces rose 6 per cent, Janus said. He said three of every four homes sold in 1975 had dishwashers, compared to 35 per cent in 1965.

Russians agree to new arms talks

Negotiating process ready; more sessions planned

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — America and the Soviet Union broke an impasse on a new treaty to limit strategic nuclear weapons by agreeing Friday on the basis for negotiations, U.S. officials reported.

They said terms of the agreement must still be worked out but the negotiating process can begin after "intensive and good-faith" talks over three days between Secretary of State Cyrus R. Vance and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

Vance was restrained but appeared to be in an upbeat mood as he returned to his hotel from the final session at the Soviet mission to work on a communique that will be issued today.

"The talks have been very useful as far as we are concerned and I believe that view is shared by the Soviets as well," he said.

Earlier in the day he telephoned President Carter.

"We are silent like fish," Gromyko told reporters at the final meeting began.

In Washington, the White House officials said the talks produced progress and "hopeful indications."

A Carter aide said, "Serious negotiations have commenced. A tit-for-tat process is under way. Our view is that this is a long and complicated process has not changed." The talks were a turnaround from negotiations last March in Moscow when the Kremlin leaders rejected Vance's proposals for a new treaty placing limits on long-range bombers and inter-continental missiles.

Vance is expected to provide some details of the negotiating framework when he holds a news conference today before flying home to Washington.

Informed sources said the two sides had agreed to blend the American proposals with a Soviet offer.

They said the final result probably will include a reduction of arsenals on both sides, some restrictions on U.S. cruise missiles and the Russian Backfire bomber and a mutual commitment to negotiate more substantial weapons cutbacks.

Presentation of the American proposals in March on a take-it-or-leave-it basis combined with President Carter's outspoken support for human rights in the Soviet Union had created a strain between the two superpowers.

500 RTD layoffs seen

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Southern California Rapid Transit District Friday unveiled a proposed 1977-78 budget of $232.5 million that includes 500 layoffs, suspension of service on six of 190 lines and a five-cent fare hike.

In addition to increasing fares from 35 to 40 cents, SCRTD General Manager Jack R. Gilstrap proposed unspecified general fare raises for express and limited service.

Reduced fares for students and senior citizens would rise to 30 cents and 20 cents, respectively, he said.

The district also plans to reduce its work force by 13.5 per cent — from 7,484 last summer to 6,462, Gilstrap said.

He said that despite the proposed fare hikes, layoffs and service reductions, the district still faces a $10.1 million deficit for the next year, which begins July 1.

The SCRTD, the fourth largest district in the nation, serves 800,000 persons daily, according to Gilstrap.

Plot to kill Reagan's wife told

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Former California Gov. Ronald Reagan said Friday that authorities once uncovered a plot to kidnap and kill his wife if he didn't release certain state prisoners while he was governor.

He said the plot to kidnap his wife, Nancy, occurred during his second term, as governor from 1971 to 1974.

Charles Casey, chief of California's Organized Crime and Criminal Intelligence branch, said, "In late 1970, there was a plot by a group calling itself the Black Liberation Army to kidnap Nancy Reagan. We got our information from an informant, not any illegal means."

Officer hurt; patrol car hit broadside

A Pomona policeman was injured Friday evening when his patrol car was hit broadside on Holt Avenue while on an emergency call.

Highway Patrol officers, who were called in to investigate the accident, said Patrolman John Falls, 31, was northbound on Palomares Avenue crossing Holt when the accident occurred.

Falls had the red lights and siren on his patrol car operating as he crossed Holt against a red light and was struck by a vehicle that was westbound on Holt.

The driver of the other car was identified as Richard Vischer, 24, of Pomona. Highway Patrol officers said he apparently did not hear the siren and failed to yield the right-of-way.

Falls was admitted to Pomona Valley Community Hospital with a dislocated shoulder, lacerations and a possible broken nose and jaw.

Carter and Ford hold smiling discussion

'Friends' meet at the White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter and former President Gerald R. Ford met in the Oval Office Friday for a smiling discussion of general topics and said they are friends.

After the meeting broke up, White House Press Secretary Jody Powell said it had been "very friendly" and lasted an hour and five minutes rather than the scheduled half hour.

Powell said the two talked mostly about foreign policy, including the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks and Vice President Walter F. Mondale's current overseas mission.

The session, noticeably more cordial than their first post-inaugural conference in March, opened with a long and relaxed exchange of chit-chat with reporters let in to view the start of the reunion.

"Good afternoon, everybody," Ford greeted the group. "You all look the same."

"He feels at home," Carter said.

"We're just good friends," Ford said with a smile.

Carter asked about Betty Ford's health and was told she is doing fine. Then he thanked Ford for calling when Rosalynn Carter had recent surgery.

After that the cameras and reporters were ushered out and the two men sat down for what the White House called an "unstructured meeting," meaning a general talk and no particular business on the agenda.

It was Ford's second visit to Washington since he left office in January. Despite the friendly encounter with Carter, it was Ford's most political outing in his new role as retired president.

Ford met Thursday with Republican congressional leaders, party officials, and former Ford Cabinet members. He capped it off by addressing a dinner which raised more than $1 million for GOP congressional campaigns.

City administrator backs chief, fires 4 Pomona police officers

By ED PRATHER
PB Staff Writer

Pomona City Administrator Jerrold Gonce said Friday that he is supporting Police Chief Richard Slaght's recommendation and has fired four Pomona policemen due to their involvement in a 1975 incident in which citizens were injured.

A fifth officer, a sergeant, was also recommended for termination, but no decision has yet been made in his case, said Gonce.

Those terminated are officers Glen M. Neher Jr., Terry D. Prentice and Peter F. Amato, and Sgt. Carl J. Jackson.

"Based on my review of the materials submitted by the Police Chief, and the individuals' responses to those materials, I don't believe any conclusion but to terminate these individuals' employment could be reached in fairness to the community, the police department, and the individuals involved," said Gonce.

The five officers were recommended for termination by Slaght in late March following an 18-month investigation into what Gonce described as a "major police brutality incident and subsequent cover-up."

The incident occurred Oct. 19, 1975 at a south Pomona home when police went to the home to investigate a complaint about a beer can being thrown over a fence.

While conflicting stories have been offered about what occurred following the arrival of the police, it is known that a general melee broke out involving three men and many police officers.

Joseph V. Haro, then 43, his 21-year-old son-in-law, Able J. Estrada, and another relative, Juan J. Nunez, 27, were subsequently arrested.

Haro was accused of breaking a police officer's finger with a baseball bat during the incident, and all three were subsequently tried and convicted of assaulting policemen, but the convictions are being appealed.

The citizens counter-charged that they were beaten by officers after their arrest at the scene and later while still in custody.

An initial investigation into the incident, lead by one of the officers now being terminated, indicated no wrongdoing on the part of the police.

Contradictory testimony at the Haro trial later lead Slaght to start a new investigation, however, which resulted in the recommendations to fire five officers and levy lesser penalties on several other policemen.

Administrative hearings for each of the officers were held during the last several weeks, with the officers represented by the law firm of Silver and Wells. The officers were also terminated in their fight against termination by the California Police Officers' Research Association, said Gonce.

It is expected that the officers will appeal Gonce's decision to the city's Merit System Commission.

Killed daughter of Pomona man in Turlock Slayer of woman still sought

Turlock police are still seeking the slayer of a Pomona man's daughter in that city Sunday night. John C. Caliri, a General Dynamics employee, returned home Thursday from Turlock where his daughter, Sharon Caliri Brown, 26, had been stabbed at least two dozen times before her slayer set her rented house on fire. Mass for the victim will be celebrated today at 9 a.m. at St. John the Baptist de la Salle Church in Granada Hills. This is the family church for her husband, Edmund Brown Jr.

At the time of the tragedy, the husband was teaching in a Montessori school in San Diego. He had planned to move back to Turlock within the next five weeks.

Before her death, Mrs. Brown had been an intern in psychology for the Waterford Elementary School District.

Mrs. Brown's stepmother said the entire family had enjoyed a reunion last February.

"Sharon was well-known in this area," said Mrs. Caliri, "because she spent her summers here, and at one time worked during the summer at the Burlington Mills plant on Valley Boulevard.

Sgt. John R. Johnson of the Turlock police department reported that a passing driver spotted the fire Sunday night in the isolated farmhouse in the west Turlock area.

He said that the house is situated in a pocket created four years ago when the Highway 99 bypass and an overcrossing were built.

He said that the body was burned beyond recognition, but identification was made through dental records.

Johnson said that the passing driver discovered Mrs. Brown's car engine running near the burning farmhouse.

Johnson said Friday that no arrests have been made in the tragic case.

Mrs. Caliri said that Sharon, a graduate of Lindsay High School, worked her way through college or received scholarships.

The victim graduated with honors from Cal State Stanislaus in 1974 and received her master's degree in psychology in 1976.

Mrs. Caliri said a scholarship is being established in Sharon's memory.

Mrs. Brown is also survived by her mother, Norma Jean Caliri of Lindsay; a sister, Mrs. Rebecca Ball of Sumter, S. C.; a brother, John Steven, also of South Carolina; and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Thompson of Lindsay and Mrs. Josephine Caliri of Los Angeles.

Ayala urges building of major state canal

By BOB SWETNAM
PB Staff Writer

State Sen. Ruben Ayala, D-Chino, speaking before the Eleanor Roosevelt Democratic Club Friday, called for the immediate construction of a major state water project in the Sacramento delta.

The project, known as the Peripheral Canal, would save millions of gallons of fresh water annually for California residents.

Ayala said that California voters in 1960 approved a $1.75 billion bond issue for the construction of water facilities in the state.

"We thought they were going to be built then," he said. "But they never were."

Plans for the construction of the major water project have been held up through the terms of three governors.

Ayala explained he has been working on several bills that will get the Peripheral Canal started after 17 years of waiting.

"If we would have built this facility back when it was first proposed, we would not be facing the serious drought situation we are today," he claimed.

The senator is sponsoring two bills in the state legislature that he hopes will lead to construction of the 43-mile-long canal.

One bill, SB 345, calls for the repeal of the 1972 Wild Rivers Act, which Ayala believes is unconstitutional. That act, a very strong environmental piece of legislation, has prevented construction of the Peripheral Canal up until now, Ayala indicated.

"Two of the top legal minds in the state have said that the Wild Rivers Act is unconstitutional," he said. "My bill is to get it off the books."

Ayala told his fellow democrats that he is deeply concerned over protecting the environment. "But I think there must be a balance between environmental concerns and people concerns."

His other major bill, SB 346, appropriates $900 million for the construction of the canal.

"This is something we must have," he exclaimed. "The Peripheral Canal must be built."

The bill calls for the spending of at least $100 million annually for the project starting in 1978.

"After 17 years and $12 million in research it has been shown that the Peripheral Canal is the best idea for conserving delta water that is presently dumped into the sea," he said.

In an attempt to allay fears among some environmentalists and many delta residents that the canal would harm the delta water quality, he said, "I would not be a part of any program that did not guarantee the water quality of the delta. But, I am opposed to wasting water... and that is what we're doing now."

Ayala said criticism from northern legislators over diverting water from the north to Southern California — as the Peripheral Canal would help do — is unfounded.

"The drought problem in the north is serious, but they brought the problem on themselves by not adequately planning for their water needs. A project such as the canal would help to alleviate such problems in the future."

Fire hits house; 2 escape

A woman and a 6-year-old boy escaped from a fire that caused $2,000 to a Pomona home Friday afternoon.

Fireman said that Matilda Green and Vincent Falkner safely exited a dwelling at 250 E. Mission Blvd. at about 12:50 p.m. when flames erupted in a bedroom of the home.

Three engine companies and a truck company brought the fire quickly under control. Cause of the fire is still under investigation.

Regents halted by protest

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)

— More than 300 angry, chanting students forced adjournment of the University of California Board of Regents meeting Friday with shouts UC was deliberately sabotaging its own special minority admissions programs.

The crowd of foot-stomping, clapping protestors refused an offer by Board Chairman William Coblentz to discuss at the close of the regular agenda what he later termed their "gross misrepresentations of the facts."

When students persisted in their call "to defend the rights of Third World students," the board members slipped quietly out a side door and met elsewhere in executive session.

Later the board publicly recovered in a cramped classroom and voted to add two students and one alumnus as advisers to campus committees that appoint chancellors.

The demonstration, the second in as many days at the regents' meetings, followed a report to the board Thursday critical of UC's employment record for women and minorities.

O-M district officials hope transfers help alleviate overcrowding

By JON MORRIS
PB Staff Writer

About 370 students will be transferred to different schools to solve an overcrowding problem in the Ontario-Montclair School District.

The changes, effective in September, were approved recently by the school board. It will mean longer bus rides for some Ontario students, but shorter rides for those in Montclair.

Deputy Supt. George Duerr noted there is an overcrowding problem in southwest Ontario schools where many new homes have been built. With 1,020 new homes in that area, Duerr predicts a reverse in declining enrollment in the district over the past eight years.

Cypress Elementary School in southwest Ontario has been particularly affected by crowded classrooms.

One parent from Cypress, Pamela O'Neill, has complained to the board about the boundary changes.

Brenda Lighththead, a parent from the Kingsley School in Ontario, protested her child's proposed transfer to Hawthorne School. "This will be the third school she would attend," said Mrs. Lighththead. "Why is this transfer going on at all?"

Board chairman Rose Kelber stated there are 19 empty classrooms in the district, but there is overcrowding in other areas. By transferring children from overcrowded areas to schools that have space, "We can alleviate the problem as painlessly as possible."

The boundary changes call for shifting about 67 students from not yet occupied homes southwest of Phillips Street and Palmetto Avenue in Ontario from Cypress to Mission Elementary School.

Also, students from the east portion of the Kingsley School area will be shifted to Hawthorne School. And students in the northeast part of Mission School's area will be transferred to Hawthorne.

Some students from the Central School area will be shifted to Edison School in Ontario; and others from Central will go to Berlyn Avenue School.

Duerr explained that in addition, students from the northeast part of Mission School's area will transfer to Central School; and some from Mission will be shifted to Margarita School in Ontario.

Some students from west of Ramona Avenue in Montclair who attend De Anza Junior High School in Ontario will be shifted to Serrano Junior High in Montclair. And others just west of Central Avenue in Montclair who go to De Anza will transfer to Vernon Junior High in Montclair.

Claremont group seeks volunteers for history survey

Claremont Heritage, Inc., a newly-organized non-profit educational group, is seeking volunteers for a survey of historical and architectural resources in Claremont.

The survey to begin about July 1 will cover the older sections of the city, and will be accomplished under the auspices of the city's Community Development Department.

According to a founding trustee, Jim Stickels, volunteers will be involved in photography, library research, interviews, street walking, typing, office work, driving and telephoning.

"Helping as a volunteer with the survey will be an exciting experience for persons interested in the history of Claremont."

Stickels said that the group would like to sign up an adequate number of volunteers by May 31, and to conduct a survey workshop for all volunteers and staff June 11.

The group will conduct a pilot survey of a small area within the Claremont Historical District June 13 to 18.

Results of the pilot survey will be compiled from June 20 to 25. A consultant will meet with the local review board of architects and history experts.

A critique will be held June 27. The group will host an information booth at Memorial Park July 4.

Stickels said that the group hopes to complete the first half of its survey by Sept. 30, and the second half by Nov. 30.

Stickels said that volunteers may phone Dorothy Boghosian at City Hall, 624-4531 or write a letter to Claremont Heritage Inc., P.O. Box 742, Claremont 91711.

Stickels outlined the following purposes of Claremont Heritage, Inc.:

—Preservation and restoration of Claremont historical buildings and districts.

—Preservation and display of documents, photographs, memorabilia and other sources of information relating to the history of Claremont.

—Stimulation of public discussion and scholarship on Claremont history.

—Promotion of active, constructive interest in the history of Claremont.

—Research into the history of community institutions.

L.V. to study downtown for redevelopment

The La Verne City Council, moving to establish a community redevelopment agency, has decided to focus on that section of the city south of Foothill Boulevard.

And to satisfy legal formalities for formation of the district and to identify the study area, the City Council this week passed seven resolutions.

It named City Manager George Caswell as the agency's executive director and reaffirmed its appointment of the City Council as the board of the redevelopment agency.

Caswell said the study area will most likely include the downtown area which needs "new blood in its lifeline."

By creating a redevelopment area, the council can freeze its assessed valuations as of now. Additional taxes which accrue are placed in a special fund and used to pay for subsequent improvements. When the improvements are finished, the redevelopment district is returned to the tax rolls.

The agency can be used to attract federal aid, particularly for low cost housing. It can also serve as a partner to the city for development of a civic center.

Caswell said neither he nor the council have come to a decision on the projects that will be undertaken. But there already is a commitment to downtown merchants that the redevelopment will include a facelifting project in the area north of the Santa Fe railroad tracks.

The district is the first of its kind created in La Verne.

Total forest area

Budget talk draws only 2

Claremont has a 25,000 population, but only two citizens expressed an interest this week in the city's proposed budget at a briefing at the Baseline Recreation Center.

City Manager Norman King and Deputy City Manager Paul Brotzman were on hand with extra copies of the proposed 1977-78 budget for those citizens interested.

"We tried," commented King who said he and Brotzman spent 1½ hours discussing the budget with the residents. Also attending the briefing were Councilman Richard Newton and a member of the press.

Off-road vehicle crackdown begins

The Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department is stepping up its enforcement of laws governing the operation of motorcycles and four-wheel drive vehicles on private and public lands in the valley.

A unique team of six deputies equipped with off-road motorcycles is spearheading the drive to cut down on trespass violations and violations of county anti-noise and anti-dust laws.

Sgt. Van Morris, head of the special enforcement division motorcycle unit, said an alarming increase has been noted recently in the number of motorcycles and off-road vehicles operating on private and public land in violation of existing laws. Morris said that the patrol of such areas has increased also because of the fire hazards which exist in foothill areas.

Pitchess warns about use of PCP, or 'Angel Dust'

Los Angeles County Sheriff Peter Pitchess today issued a stern warning about PCP, or "Angel Dust," a drug he described as the most threatening narcotics menace in the county.

Use of the drug, originally intended for use by veterinarians as a tranquilizer, is approaching epidemic proportions, according to Pitchess.

"Everyone involved in dealing with PCP cases agrees the drug is one of the most destructive substances a person can take. Brain damage, paranoia, hostility and self-destruction are common side-effects experienced by users," he said.

PCP arrests for the first three months of 1977 are greater than the total PCP arrests for 1976, the sheriff's statistics indicate.

Pitchess charged that the proliferation of marijuana throughout the state resulted in a buyers' market, causing many dealers to lace their marijuana with PCP and advertise it as "super-potent." Many pot smokers have smoked PCP with their marijuana and didn't know it, he said.

Pitchess warned parents that dealers in PCP have begun selling the drug at junior and senior high schools.

Pitchess asked the help of citizens in locating PCP laboratories which usually are established in residential areas.

Jews mark biblical holiday of harvest

JERUSALEM — (BW) — Shavuot (SHAH-VOO-OTE), the Jewish holiday that celebrates the revelation of the Ten Commandments at Mount Sinai 33 centuries ago, begins Monday at sundown.

The Hebrew name of the holiday means "weeks" because it is celebrated exactly seven weeks after Passover. Christians know this holiday is Pentecost, from the Greek word meaning 50 days.

In the United States Shavuot is observed for two days by orthodox and conservative Jews and one day only by Reform. It is a time set aside for study of the Torah, the five books of Moses. This also is the time when Jewish young people celebrate their confirmation in the covenant of Moses and Abraham.

In biblical times Shavuot celebrated the bringing of the first fruits of the summer crop to the temple in Jerusalem. It was one of three festivals that brought thousands of pilgrims with their offerings to the capital city of ancient Israel.

In Israel today Shavuot again is celebrated as a national harvest and thanksgiving holiday, coming at the beginning of summer, when the cold rainy season is over, the skies cloudless, the days warm and the ground richly carpeted with grass and wildflowers.

All over the country farm families prepare for weeks in advance of the holiday, decorating baskets filled with the first fruits of every crop.

On Shavuot parades of fruit and flowers, newborn farm animals and even the first-born children — all wreathed in flowers — wind around each settlement. The young people read verses from the Bible and perform songs and dances of thanksgiving for the bountiful harvest.

This is the time of year when the Ten Commandments were revealed to Moses at Sinai. Religious Jews in Israel traditionally spend the entire night before Shavuot in study.

In each area an educated layman or a rabbi leads a Bible study session that begins at midnight on Shavuot eve and continues till dawn.

In Jerusalem, one hour before dawn, people finish studying with the recitation of the Ten Commandments from the Torah scroll. Then they begin the walk to the Western Wall (last remnant of the Temple destroyed by the Romans nearly 2,000 years ago).

At sunrise, tens of thousands converge at the wall and relive the experience of Sinai, reaffirming their belief in one God in the ancient Hebrew prayer, "Hear, O Israel, the Lord our God, the Lord is one."

Chino's Lapp one of top contenders for A.V. spot

By JON MORRIS
PB Staff Writer

Chino school district Supt. Royce Lapp is reportedly one of two "top candidates" for the position of superintendent in the Antelope Valley Union High School District in Lancaster.

According to sources in Lancaster, Lapp has been interviewed by the school board there and apparently is being strongly considered for the post.

One source said, however, that the Lancaster board is under no "time constraints" and may not announce its selection for a while.

The board may gather information and slowly approach the time when it thinks it has a "winner." Only then would a new superintendent be chosen, said the source.

Lapp resigned from his present post last year, and asked for a transfer to another certificated position. His contract expires on June 30, but the Chino school board has yet to announce selection of Lapp's successor.

The Chino board had promised a choice by April but made no announcement during that month. Some sources indicate it may be several weeks before a new superintendent is chosen.

The Lancaster district is currently without a superintendent. Robert Kelly resigned in January to accept another post and Bob Stodola has been serving as acting superintendent.

There are four high schools and 8,000 students in the Antelope Valley district. Chino has 13 schools and 12,000 students.

Pomona High's Tim Lambert gets the green light from Devil coach Jay Craven to go on home in the fifth inning of Pomona-Bolsa Grande CIF contest Friday afternoon at La Verne College. Lambert tallied Pomona's second run on the play.

Pomona's CIF hopes end

By JIM McCONNELL
PB Staff Writer

Pomona High's "Great Comeback" came to an end Friday. The Devils have bounced back from six early season forfeits to advance all the way to the CIF 3A quarterfinals, but Bolsa Grande ended the locals' CIF title hopes with a thrill-filled 4-2 victory Friday afternoon at La Verne College.

Actually, Pomona was still hopeful after the contest, due to a protest the Devils' filed after a controversial play in the third inning netted the visitors a run.

However, the play was apparently not in violation of any CIF rules according to a CIF official contacted by the Progress Bulletin. The protest was to be settled today by the CIF office and, if upheld, the contest would resume from the point of the protest on Monday or Tuesday. That much-discussed third inning tally actually had no real bearing on the game's final outcome. The Matadors rallied for two runs in the top of the sixth to win it off Pomona ace hurler Tim Lambert, who was pitching his 17th playoff inning in a week's time.

Lambert's wildness hurt him in that frame more than the Matador bats. Jon Hockenberry and Craig Sudyka led off the inning with singles, and Lambert walked Jim Smevog to load the sacks. He then hit Randy Sindorn with a pitch to force in one run, and walked Peyton Hickman to bring in another.

A nifty third to home doubleplay engineered by Joey Chapa and a strikeout ended the inning without further damage, but Bolsa Grande hurler Jamie Nelson made those runs stand up.

Nelson had been staked to another two-run lead earlier in the game, as Tom Barnett slammed a homer leading off the game and the Matadors' scored again in the third on the controversial call.

In that inning, Barnett drew a one-out walk and stole second. Terry Kayano's single to left moved him to third. Hurler Nelson then hit a grounder to third sacker Chapa, who held Barnett and threw Nelson out at first.

Kayano went to second on the play, but apparently became confused at that point as to whether Chapa had caught the ball or not, and started to dash back to first.

He eventually was run down and tagged out between first and second by Pomona pitcher Mike Keegan, but in the meanwhile Barnett scooted across home plate with the second Bolsa Grande run.

Pomona coach Jay Craven filed the protest at that point, saying that a runner cannot run the bases backwards, as Kayano appeared to do.

However, there is no rule against such an occurrence and the Devil protest seemed to have little chance of winning.

The Devils, a gutty team all year long, came back with two outs in the last of the fifth to tie the game at 2-2. Kevin Johnson got things going with a single up the middle, and Lambert followed with a hit-and-run single to center.

Lambert then swiped second, and Chapa came through with a single to right-center to drive home both runs.

The Devils had mild threats in the sixth and seventh, but Nelson was able to fight his way out of those jams to notch the win. The Matador righthander fanned four and walked only two.

Pomona pitchers Keegan and Lambert combined for eight strikeouts, but walked six men and hit a batter, and that proved to be the difference in the final analysis. The Devils finish their season at 12-14. Bolsa Grande, now 19-7-1, will face top-seeded Edgewood next Wednesday in the 3A semifinals.

The 3A and 4A finals are set for June 1 at Anaheim Stadium.

Webb advances to finals

By PAUL CLICK
PB Correspondent

Baseball fans witnessed plenty of action at Webb High in the semi-final round of the 1A CIF playoffs Friday afternoon.

Both Webb and Brethren squandered scoring opportunities in the late innings as they treated the fans to a whacky 10 innings of action that took two hours and 42 minutes to play.

When the dust had settled, with the Webb fans dancing in jubilation on the diamond, Webb had advanced to the finals to play Fillmore by beating Brethren's Josh Randall, 4-3.

Fillmore, the top seed entering the playoffs, defeated Maranatha 9-2 to advance to the finals on Friday and will play Webb on a neutral site that is still undetermined. Webb ran its record to 19-7 with the victory.

John Richards was the hero for the Gauls as he looped a fly to short center that fell in as Dave Sanger raced in from third with the winning tally. Sanger had led off the inning with a booming double off the leftfield wall. The double broke an 0-for-22 slump for the Webb catcher. It was his fifth double.

"They had a chance to score the winning run three or four times but we just hung in there," noted Webb's Len Hassler. Howard Lockie hung in there and was able to pitch out of several tough jams. He did a great job with the bases loaded and none out in the ninth.

Lockie was tagged for 11 hits but outside of the fifth he was able to strand 11 Warrior runners. He kept plugging away with an assortment of pitches to improve his record to 10-2. Lockie threw three of the games seven wild pitches and committed two balks to keep himself constantly in hot water.

Hassler commented, "Lockie just wouldn't quit when Brethren put the winning run on base in the eighth, ninth and 10th innings. We've made it a habit this year of winning our contests in the final innings."

Josh Randall held the Gauls to three runs through the first nine innings despite having control problems. He walked 11 men and threw four wild pitches as he fanned 15 Webb batters. The base on balls caught up with the Warriors' hurler. He lost Mike Alvarez on a 3-1 pitch with two out in the tenth to bring Richards to the plate with Sanger at third. Randall had fanned the light hitting Alvarez twice before he turned out to be the fireballer's Achilles' heel.

With the 15 strikeouts, Randall finished the year with a total of 217 strikeouts. The 217 whiffs set a new CIF record for most strikeouts by a hurler in a single season.

Webb jumped out to a 3-1 lead in the second on two hits, a walk and three wild pitches. Brethren battled back to tie in the fifth as the Gauls committed two errors and Lockie bounced two pitches to the backstop.

USC rallies for 4-2 win

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The University of Southern California came from behind to score a 4-2 victory over Washington State Friday night to take a 1-0 lead in their best-of-three series to determine the Pacific-8 Conference baseball champion.

The Trojans went ahead to stay in the seventh on a single by Tim Tolman, a sacrifice, an infield out and Dave Hostetler's two-out single.

blowout under exercise rider Mike Kennedy on Friday morning. He went three-eighths of a mile in 36 seconds, with fractions of 12 and 241-5, and galloped out a half-mile in 50 2-5.

"He's starting to relax more and more, especially with Mike," said Turner. "He knows that when Jean (jockey Jean Cruguet) is up it's time for business. That's why we only use Jean for serious work."

In another development Friday, Robert Gilbert was named to replace Herb Hinojosa as jockey on Hey Hey J.P., who has failed to win in eight starts this year.

A victory by Seattle Slew would make him the first Derby winner since Secretariat to go into the Belmont Stakes with a chance of winning the Triple Crown. Secretariat became racing's ninth Triple Crown winner in 1973.

In 1974, Derby winner Cannonade finished third in the Preakness won by Little Current. Foolish Pleasure, the 1975 Derby winner, finished second in the Preakness to Master Der-

Smith blasts homer, Dodgers dump Bucs

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Reggie Smith rapped a three-run homer to lead a five-run fifth-inning surge that gave the Los Angeles Dodgers a 6-1 National League victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates Friday night.

Burt Hooton, 4-1, who held Pittsburgh hitless over the first 4 1-3 innings and yielded a total of four hits before being relieved in the eighth inning by Stan Wall, got the victory. Wall held the Pirates to just one hit the rest of the way.

Steve Yeager's solo homer in the third gave the Dodgers a 1-0 lead off Pirate starter Larry Demery, who also was charged with all five Dodger runs in the fifth as his record fell to 5-2.

Hooton doubled and scored the first run in the Dodger fifth, which included run-scoring singles by Dave Lopes and Rick Monday and Smith's three-run homer over the left field wall. It was Smith's 11th home run this season.

With one out in the fifth, Willie Stargell bounced a single off the left side for the first Pittsburgh hit.

Hooton had a two-hitter going into the eighth before Duffy Dyer walked, took third on a two-out double by Omar Moreno and came home on a run-scoring single by Frank Taveras that chased Hooton.

The Dodgers, who made three errors in a loss to Pittsburgh the night before, supported Hooton with several key defensive plays.

Hooton helped himself in the first inning when he made a bare-handed pickup of a bunt and made a strong throw to first that just beat Taveras.

In the second, Los Angeles left fielder Dusty Baker tripped and fell at the warning track but still managed a one-handed catch while on his back on a long drive by Al Oliver. Later in the same inning, Dodger shortstop Bill Russell made a bare-handed catch of a high bouncer up the middle and threw out Rennie Stennett.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Seattle Slew will race on medication for the first time when he runs in the Preakness at Pimlico Saturday.

"Yes, we put him on the Bute list," trainer Billy Turner said Friday. "I know the track is going to be as hard as a rock. It always is down here. A very fast track stings a horse."

Turner's decision to use Butazolidin, which is sort of an aspirin for horses, means that under Maryland racing regulations Seattle Slew must run on the medication in the 13-16 mile Preakness.

Although Butazolidin also is legal for racing in Kentucky, Turner said Seattle Slew did not have it when it won the Derby. "First of all, we didn't so much rain down there I didn't think the track would be hard," Turner said. "I didn't think it would even be fast."

"We've given it to him after races as a therapeutic thing," said the trainer. "I don't think it has any serious side effects if it's used in controlled fashion, but I'm really not in favor of racing on it."

Butazolidin is not legal in New York, where unbeaten Seattle Slew has scored four of his six wins. Turner declined to use it for the colt's two races in Florida.

Of his decision to use Bute Saturday, Turner said: "We didn't come here to play games. This is the Preakness. There's no sense in leaving any stone unturned."

Declarations to use Butazolidin also were made by the trainers of Cormorant, Sir Sir, Hey Hey J.P. and Iron Constitution. Sir Sir also will race on the diuretic, Lasix.

Preakness starters who will not race on medication are J.O. Tobin, Run Dusty Run, Regal Sir and Counter Punch.

Post time for the nationally-televised race is 2:40 p.m. PDT, and if all nine start, the 102nd Preakness will be worth $191,100 with $138,000 to the winner. The field will be scale-weighted at 126 pounds.

La Verne breezing

By TIM CLARK
PB Correspondent

LEWISTON, Ida. — La Verne College is making a shambles of the NAIA Area One baseball tournament.

The Leopards trounced opponents Lewis-Clark State and Lewis and Clark College by scores of 9-0 and 12-1, respectively, Friday night and are just one win away from ending the tournament.

La Verne (37-10) can wrap up its berth in next week's NAIA World Series in St. Joseph, Mo., by beating Lewis-Clark State (48-12) today. But the Leos will have another opponent — the weather.

Although the skies were clear and warm here Friday, a huge storm is expected to hit the area this evening. Therefore the game, which was originally scheduled for 5 p.m., will be moved up to 1 p.m. in hopes of beating the rain.

A victory for La Verne in the 1 p.m. contest will give the Leos the area championship. If LCS should win the game, however, the two squads will play again immediately after the first contest, with the winner advancing to Missouri.

Righthander Paul McGuire (8-1, 4.25 ERA) will be on the mound for the Leos against LCS's Glen Johnson (13-2, 1.54 ERA), who beat Lewis & Clark Thursday night.

Lewis & Clark was eliminated from the tournament by Friday's loss to La Verne. The team from Portland, Ore., ended its season with an 18-18 record.

The Leos used some great pitching by lefty Jim Vallone and some superlative fielding to dispose of LCS in Friday's first game, but "The Wrecking Crew" began swinging its bats in earnest against L&C.

Although La Verne scored nine times in the first game, most of the Leo hits were "cheapies" that barely eluded LCS fielders. (Most of La Verne's well-hit balls were caught in that contest.) But the Leos simply pounded the ball against L&C.

"Well," said La Verne coach Ben Hines, "we finally hit the ball good in the second game. It's about time."

Home runs by Bob Waldusky, Ralph Valadez, Brian Embury and Steve Polan and doubles by Valadez, Wayne Redfern, Tim Burzette and Pat Proulx provided most of the La Verne runs against L&C. The Leos also had four doubles in the first game but did not give up an extra-base hit all day.

Vallone (8-2, 2.22 ERA) was almost untouchable. He threw only 93 pitches while dispatching a team with a .344 batting average on just three singles. He struck out two batters and walked three but was in a jam only once, when a double play took off the pressure.

Shortstop Mike Wolters and second baseman Rick Oliver each made two fine fielding plays and Dave Chavez made a great diving catch in leftfield.

"I'll tell you," said Vallone, "it wasn't as easy as it looked. I made that team hit my pitch. My teammates really turned in some clutch plays. It seems that every time I pitch, they always make the little heat off Doug."

It was Vallone's second shutout of the season and seventh complete game in eight starts.

"Vallone looked very good today," said Hines. "He's had good outings before, but he was as sharp today as he's ever been."

Doug Thompson (9-5) picked up the win in the second game with an inning of relief help from Steve Goggans. That game went only seven innings, because Embury's two-out, two-run pinch hit home run in the bottom of the seventh gave the Leos a 12-1 lead. According to an NAIA rule, a game ends when one team leads by 10 runs or more. The rule will not be invoked in today's championship game or games, however.

"I put Goggans in just to take a little heat off Doug," explained Hines. "I'll probably want to use him (Thompson) some (today)."

Waldusky's home run was his 16th of the season and Polan's was his 14th.

Tanana fires blank at Twins

By DON BRADLEY
PB Staff Writer

ANAHEIM — The Angels won their eighth game in 11 outings Friday night as Frank Tanana became the American League's first seven-game winner.

Tanana (7-1) struggled with his control early in the game but went on to record his third shutout, 3-0, over the Minnesota Twins.

He struck out eight but walked four and gave up eight hits. Manager Norm Sherry had two pitchers warming up in the second inning when the Twins loaded the bases with one out.

"I was struggling. I couldn't get my rhythm," admitted Tanana sounding like a Nolan Ryan replay. "I felt like I was on foreign ground out there. It wasn't the difference between just missing and getting it over. I was off by a foot."

Tanana righted himself enough to strike out Jerry Terrell and Roy Smalley to retire the side.

"I'll tell you something about Frank," said Sherry. "When he gets runners on second or third, he really gets tough. I watched him last year and this year and I've never seen anybody that tough with men in scoring position."

Tanana had helped himself to get the first out or Minnesota would have scored at least once.

After Craig Kusick, who hits Tanana like he owns him, started the inning with a single, Dan Ford walked. Butch bunted down the third base line, but Tanana sprinted over, fielded the ball and fired to Dave Chalk at third in time to force Kusick.

"That was wonderful, wasn't it?" asked the flakey lefthander. "The guys played a hell of a game behind me, too."

After Bob Randall doubled with one out in the seventh, and Rod Carew beat out his second infield hit, Bobby Grich and Jerry Remy combined on a fast, inning-ending double play. They did the same thing in the eighth after Kusick drew a leadoff walk.

Tony Solaita and Chalk paced the Halo attack with two hits each. The Angels jumped out in front, 2-0, in the first inning.

Gil Flores walked and was forced out at second by Remy. Solaita singled but was forced at second on Joe Rudi's grounder with Remy taking third.

Both scored on Bobby Bonds' double, though Bonds was out trying to stretch it into a triple.

Solaita opened the Angels fourth with his second hit and advanced to second on a wild pitch. Rudi grounded out, Solaita holding, and Bonds walked.

Chalk came through with a single to left scoring Solaita. But Bonds again was out at third after rounding the base and coming too far down the line.

The victory moved the Halos to within two games of the .500 level at 18-20.

"I think we're getting it going now," said a happy Sherry. "Things are beginning to fall in for us. Tomorrow (Saturday) is a big day. Winning the first two games of a big series gives us a good shot at a sweep or at least winning three of four."

ANGEL ANGLES — A virus hit Pete Redfern necessitating a pitching change for the Twins. Former Dodger Geoff Zahn (6-1), who was slated to pitch Sunday, will move up one game and go tonight (7:30 p.m.) instead. He'll face Gary Ross (0-2). If Redfern (1-2) isn't available Sunday, Dave Johnson (0-0) gets the nod against Wayne Simpson (3-3).

Tonight's game will be preceded by the annual "Spouses-Louises" game between Angels' players' wives and KMPC disc jockeys.

Seattle Slew will use medication

BALTIMORE (AP) — Seattle Slew will race on medication for the first time when he runs in the Preakness at Pimlico Saturday.

"Yes, we put him on the Bute list," trainer Billy Turner said Friday. "I know the track is going to be as hard as a rock. It always is down here. A very fast track stings a horse."

Turner's decision to use Butazolidin, which is sort of an aspirin for horses, means that under Maryland racing regulations Seattle Slew must run on the medication in the 13-16 mile Preakness.

Although Butazolidin also is legal for racing in Kentucky, Turner said Seattle Slew did not have it when it won the Derby. "First of all, we didn't so much rain down there I didn't think the track would be hard," Turner said. "I didn't think it would even be fast."

"We've given it to him after races as a therapeutic thing," said the trainer. "I don't think it has any serious side effects if it's used in controlled fashion, but I'm really not in favor of racing on it."

Butazolidin is not legal in New York, where unbeaten Seattle Slew has scored four of his six wins. Turner declined to use it for the colt's two races in Florida.

Of his decision to use Bute Saturday, Turner said: "We didn't come here to play games. This is the Preakness. There's no sense in leaving any stone unturned."

Declarations to use Butazolidin also were made by the trainers of Cormorant, Sir Sir, Hey Hey J.P. and Iron Constitution. Sir Sir also will race on the diuretic, Lasix.

Preakness starters who will not race on medication are J.O. Tobin, Run Dusty Run, Regal Sir and Counter Punch.

Post time for the nationally-televised race is 2:40 p.m. PDT, and if all nine start, the 102nd Preakness will be worth $191,100 with $138,000 to the winner. The field will be scale-weighted at 126 pounds.

The ABC telecast will run from 2-3 Seattle Slew was on the track for a by, who was trained by Smiley Adams. Adams trains Run Dusty Run in this year's edition.

Last year, Derby winner Bold Forbes was third in the Preakness won by Elucationist.

With labor troubles having forced cancellation of Aqueduct's $56,150 Roseben Handicap, Saturday's other major races shape up as the $40,000-added Hawthorne Handicap over 11-16th miles at Hollywood Park and the $30,000-added Sutter Stakes covering the same distance at Golden Gate Fields. On Sunday, it's the $100,000 Californian, also 11-16th miles at Hollywood.

A strike by mutual employees closed Aqueduct Friday. Racing authorities hoped to move the Roseben to Belmont, where a regular meet is to open Monday, but picketing at the track contributed to the decision to cancel the race. Forego, a three-time Horse of the Year, career winner of $1,655,217 and now a 7-year-old, figured to be favored for the seven-furlong Roseben.

Bastoner II will tote 124 pounds and Cascadia will carry 123 for the Hawthorne. Your Dancer is top-weighted at 122 but Cathy's Reject could wind up the bettors' favorite in the Sutter.

In a pair of $20,000-added features, Drop The Pigeon has been assigned high impost of 120 for the 6½-furlong Marica Handicap at Hawthorne, and Royal Ski will carry 123 through the six-furlong Select Handicap at Monmouth. Jane Porter and Time For Pleasure rate among the favorites in the six-furlong Regret Stakes at Churchill Downs and Noble Royalty is listed among the favorites in the seven-furlong Ruddy Belle Stakes at Calder, a pair of $20,000-added features.

Look for a field of six in the Californian. Crystal Water, winner of the Santa Anita Handicap, is expected to be the favorite with Laffit Pincay up. Ancient Title, seeking a third straight victory, will have Sandy Hawley up.

UCR kept its record perfect by trouncing Cal State Northridge, 11-4. In other games Friday, Cal State Hayward defeated Cal Poly-San Luis Obispo, 7-2, and CSHU whipped Northridge, 10-4.

It happened in Pomona

They called them the Gay Nineties — that ten year period before the Twentieth Century arrived — and thanks to J.E. Patterson who, in 1908, was recalling those illustrious days in this city for a Pomona Progress reporter, we have this interesting description of what our town was really like at the start of that amazing decade.

"There was no paving on Second Street," Patterson pointed out, "but J.E. McComas had started the march of public improvement in that area by having the wooden sidewalk about his building removed and a wide cement sidewalk laid in its place. He also made certain that the wooden awning on his building would be more sturdily held in place by removing the wooden posts and installing iron supports. There were 25 telephones in Pomona for which subscribers paid $4 a month. We had no automobiles in those days and no pneumatic tire bicycles. The block on the south-west corner of Garey Avenue and Second street was vacant and in coming downtown folks would cut across the block on a well worn footpath. But downtown Pomona was well illuminated in 1890. We had lamp posts and a man to make the rounds in the morning to turn out the lights."

Then, having pointed out the wonders of Pomona's Gay Nineties business district in that graphic manner, old timer Patterson concluded his historical recollections in this quite logical fashion:

"Pomona Cemetery consisted of a five acre plot with a wooden fence in front."

chess

A near victory of the prestigious Lone Pine International Tournament (California) was Senior Caliform John Peters.

Peters was in the lead with two rounds to go. But in the penultimate round, with a draw by perpetual check in hand against Sahovich of Yugoslavia, Peters pressed too hard for the win and lost.

The spurned draw would have given Peters his first grandmaster norm (two are necessary for the title) and left him in a tie for first place. He would then have needed only a draw in the last round to finish on top with Panno, Balashov and Gaprindasvili, and win $5,750.

Peters' go-for-broke effort is typical of the young California master who consistently displays an exceptional sporting spirit.

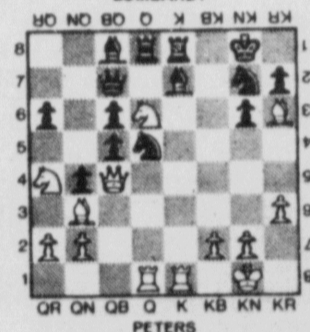

In the position below from a fourth-round game, Peters finished off his grandmaster opponent William Lombardy with a smothered mate! This victory was the 2nd win in a row for Peters against Lombardy.

The game gives a good taste of Peters' aggressive style and tactical ability.

Lucky Lindy flies again on America's postage stamps.

To mark the 50th anniversary of Charles A. Lindbergh's solo transatlantic flight from New York to Paris, a 13-cent commemorative stamp will be issued on May 20. The place of issuance will be on Long Island near the site of old Roosevelt Field from which Lindbergh took off in 1927.

Although first day cancellation orders will be sent to the Postmaster in Garden City, N.Y., the U.S. Postal Service emphasizes that the cancellation will read "Roosevelt Field Station, N.Y."

The design of the new stamp depicts the famed "Spirit of St. Louis" flying low over the water between Nova Scotia and Newfoundland in the ninth hour of the flight. The setting sun appears behind the right wing of the aircraft. At the upper right is "USA 13 cents" and below the plane in one line of type is the wording "50th Anniversary Solo Transatlantic Flight."

New U.S. postage stamps are sold for one day at the post office in the city of issuance. Then they are placed on sale the next day at post offices in other cities throughout the country.

Collectors purchasing their own stamps at local post offices can do so and affix the same to their own envelopes (in the upper right corner). Return addresses should be placed low and well to the left. Send your order, POST-MARKED NO LATER THAN JUNE 4, to "First Day Cancellations, Postmaster, Garden City, N.Y. 11530." No remittance is required.

If you would prefer the USPS to affix the stamps for cancellation, follow the same procedures except send your order to: "Lindbergh Flight Stamps, Postmaster, Garden City, N.Y. 11530." The cost is 13 cents per stamp. Again, orders must be post-marked no later than June 4.

Pie safe makes valued addition

By Dorothy Hammond

QUESTION: I will appreciate information on the age and value of this pierced tin pie safe. The tin panels are in very good condition, and so is the original finish which is a brownish-gray buttermilk paint. The lock works very well. Inside, there is a half shelf and a full shelf for storage. This piece of furniture is 23½ inches deep, 37 inches wide and 53 inches high. Mrs. R.D.W.

ANSWER: Your pie safe is typical of those dating from the mid-nineteenth century. These were especially popular in the midwestern part of the country. The pierced tin panels ventilated the cabinet, yet kept out the insects and added to the attractiveness of the piece. Examples like yours are presently selling in the $275-$325 price range.

Washington — after the siege at Yorktown." Another tells of the first balloon flights in America, as well as the first airplane flights. Additionally, the collection includes history of the Civil War era, and the death of Lincoln.

Now that I have retired, I would like to dispose of this collection, but have been unable to interest anyone. I have contacted various organizations, colleges and individuals around the country. Can you help in anyway? I will enclose a variety of zerox copies telling of important events included in the collection, old advertising pieces and early comic strips. After you have had an opportunity to look over this material, I will appreciate your comments. J.H.

ANSWER: Your outstanding collection would be of lasting value to researchers. I suggest that you contact a book publisher.

QUESTION: Last fall I found a rolling pin which appears to be quite old, even though it was not made from one piece of wood. Today I started to clean the roller and found that it is made of maple burl, with maple wooden handles. The contrast is most unusual. Can you give me some idea what a burl rolling pin like I have described might be worth? — C.S.

ANSWER: From $135 to $165.

Grove of trees reminder of tragic loss

YUBA CITY, Calif. (AP) — Outside the music building at Yuba City High School grow 29 trees, planted in a garden where the sound of young voices rehearsing drifts faintly among the branches.

The trees stand for a young music teacher and 28 teen-age choir members who died last May 21 in the

"The kids in the choir made it easy. They're an easy bunch to love. And the community support. I don't think anyone in this town, if they were facing something really heavy, would have believed how people would come out to help."

The anniversary of the crash falls five days before

Now 18, he's a freshman at Yuba Community College, but for his first semester he went back to the high school on Tuesdays and Thursdays to sing with the younger choir.

"The hardest thing for me is the number," said his mother. "If it wasn't so many ... Sometimes I think that if it were just Robert I would get along pretty well. It's the group thing that troubles me. So much pain to so many people."

There was strength in the numbers, too. Mrs. Randolph recalled how, in the days after the crash, "the house was full of kids all the time" — the handful of crash survivors who had escaped long hospital stays, their friends and friends of the dead teenagers. "They were great about sharing their grief," she said.

"Whenever we're together we're always just a little bit closer together than with our other friends," said Steve Eberhart, 18, a senior who recovered from serious injuries to sing in the choir again this year.

Parents of the kids on the bus worked through their grief by throwing their energy into projects: a memorial music scholarship, a trip to Sacramento to impress legislators of the need for stricter bus safety rules.

In September, Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr. signed legislation applying school bus safety standards to buses chartered to carry school groups on field trips.

California Highway Patrol investigators concluded that a proper inspection before the trip would have turned up the badly worn compressor belt that they said caused the bus' brakes to fail. The bus flew off an exit ramp near Martinez and landed upside down on the ground 25 feet below.

More than $40 million in lawsuits have been filed against the school board, the bus driver and the owner of the bus.

Neither driver Evan Prothero nor Herb Brown, whose company owned the bus, wanted to talk with reporters about their own tragedies. Prothero, 51, recently underwent another round of surgery for injuries that left him walking with crutches.

"On the whole, people have done remarkably," said Mary Kerns, an energetic Irishwoman whose daughter, Colleen, was among the most seriously injured of the surviving students. Mrs. Kerns is recovering from a heart attack in March.

"I didn't feel real good since the accident," she said. "It's hard to show your feelings. When you have five other kids you have to kind of hold it in.

"It's hard for me to go to the parents' meetings, because the parents of the deceased will be there," she said. "One family is older — it was a change of life baby and their only child that they lost. Another family got a divorce because the mother has withdrawn completely."

"And Colleen, she's doing fine, but she limps a little bit."

crash near Martinez, Calif., of a bus carrying them to a concert at another school.

In the year since the tragedy shook this city of 15,000, survivors of the crash and parents of the dead have drawn together to build the memorial garden, lobby for bus safety legislation and help each other heal.

"I feel a steady progress," said Dean Estabrook, 37, the choir director who lost his 26-year-old wife, Cristina, as well as 28 of "his kids."

"I'm getting more and more outgoing, less introspective, as the days pass," Estabrook said.

what would have been the Estabrooks' fourth wedding anniversary. Now he lives alone, invited for dinner at friends' homes "an average five nights a week" and lunching at school on salads to compensate for the extra calories.

"They say the first year is the hardest," reflected Carol Randolph, who lost a 17-year-old son, Robert, on the bus. "I feel if you get through all the dates — the holidays, the birthdays when all the family would be together — then it will be easier."

Robert's twin brother, Tom, was one of the 21 student survivors of the crash.

Girls, as well as boys, are learning about the Navy in the sea cadets.

Young valley sailors look toward the sea

"I must go down to the seas again,
To the lonely sea and the sky,
And all I ask is a tall ship
And a star to steer her by."

—John Masefield, "Sea-Fever"

Although the valley is many miles from the ocean, local boys and girls are learning the life of a sailor in the Hepburn Division of the Naval Sea Cadet Corps, meeting weekly for nautical training at the U. S. Naval Reserve Training Center at 1700 E. First St., Pomona.

The NSCC was federally chartered in 1962 under the joint sponsorship of the Navy Department and the Navy League of the United States. It is the only Navy-oriented training program officially recognized by the Navy Department affording cadets opportunity to train at Naval installations, complete advancement requirements aboard Navy and Coast Guard ships, and, when qualified, to enlist at an advanced rate.

The Hepburn Division, named for the destroyer escort Hepburn, was commissioned in 1963 under the sponsorship of Pomona Valley Council 130, Navy League of the United States. The Pomona Naval Reserve Training Center is the supporting activity. The division is under Lt. Cmdr. Norvin Wiley, commanding officer, and Lt. Cmdr. Wilson Forbes, executive officer. These are active duty military personnel who volunteer their off-duty time for the operation and activities of the unit, as do four other military and three civilians who are officers of the division.

The NSCC cadets (don't call them "Sea Scouts") are 14, 15 and 16 years old. They go through a program similar to boot training in the Navy, learning basic seamanship, first aid, swimming and survival, close-order drill, fire fighting, knot-tying, basic military regulations and military justice. Classroom work includes personal hygiene, moral guidance and American history and traditions. A highlight of the program is spending two weeks during the summer at the Recruit Training Command at San Diego. Qualified cadets are also eligible for two weeks at a Canadian Navy Training Center. The corps has been extended invitations to exchange cadets with England, India, Australia and Sweden.

Pomona Valley Council 130 provides funds for uniforms, instruction aids, transportation and food and housing when members of the corps are on field trips, competitions and out-of-the-area training. A flagship competition is being held at Port Hueneme this weekend.

As a fund-raising benefit, the council will sponsor a duo concert by pianist Carol Stewart and coloratura Jan Schmidt in Garrison Theater, Claremont, at 8 p.m. June 18. Information on the program can be obtained from Gene Bloch or Al Balogh at 629-5111, Ext. 253.

NSCC stresses that the program of training is not a recruitment device. When a cadet completes all the training afforded him, he assumes no obligation to any of the military services but returns a more valuable member of the community by reason of his experience and training.

The objectives of the Naval Sea Cadet Corps as set forth in Public Law 87-655 are "to encourage and aid American young people to develop an interest and skill in basic seamanship and its Naval adaptation, to train them in seagoing skills, and to teach them patriotism, courage, self-reliance and kindred virtues."

Capt. Howard Lavery, USNR, conducts the annual inspection.

Earth Day is revived

On Friday, April 22, the National Honor Society of Garey High School revived celebrating Earth Day, an ecological ceremony originated by former students who were members of a group called "SMUDGE" (Stop Making Us Destroy Good Earth), a now defunct organization interested in cleaning up pollution.

The ritual took place over the burial site of a time capsule that was buried on April 22, 1970. The box contains items of life in the 1960s and 1970s. It is scheduled to be exhumed in the year 2000.

The celebration consisted of a procession to the gravesite, followed by a poem, speech, and eulogy recited by honor society members. A tree was planted and dedicated in honor of the event.

Students participating in the affair were Amy Mukai, Lisa Farris, Phillip Lee, Marty Rupp, Sue Webster, and various other club associates. The club advisor, Mrs. Ginger Friedman, could not attend because of illness.

Grants listed by Alta Loma

Thirteen Alta Loma High School students are to be recipients of California Student Aid Commission grants for 1977-78.

They are Bertha Alba, Alice Avila, Mary Ball, Becky Bowden, Nancy Gamboa, Robyn Gearhart, Richard Hilleman, Tina Holmes, Janice Lefler, Karen Lightner, Alejandra Marruffo, Biza Sorenson and Pat Warren.

State scholarships are awarded to students with academic ability and aptitude who need financial assistance to attend college.

Each recipient is entitled to apply for annual renewal of the award. Individuals will receive letters indicating amounts of the grants they are to receive.

Bullfighter

The word toreador, referring to the bullfighter, is no longer used. In modern Spanish, the bullfighter is called a torero.

High School students participated in the Elks Lodge National Youth Week "Youth in Government Day" May 2.

Each student, along with students from other area high schools, met Jack Gebel, past exalted ruler, at 9 a.m. and then went to various city offices.

Each went with a different city official, such as personnel director, fire chief or treasurer. The students were shown the inner-workings of the office. Students also were taken on tours of the City Hall, seeing such points of interest as minutes of City Council meetings dating back to 1890.

They also saw computers regulating city stoplights, the city printing room and various maps and photos of the city.

Some individual students saw such things as the vault with city bonds and the city maintenance yards.

One student sat in on job interviews, another was given a personal tour of the main city fire department while another accompanied a policeman on certain calls.

At noon, the students went with the city officials to the Elks Lodge as guests at a luncheon. It was announced at the luncheon that Lisa Pound, Leslie Caro and Susan Bergmann, along with a student from Damien High School in La Verne and Garey High School in Pomona, had been chosen to open the council meeting Monday evening in the Council Chambers.

This announcement was made by exalted ruler David Haywood.

The other Pomona Catholic students who attended the "Youth in Government Day" were Alicia Alvarez, Sheila Boyd, Liz Rodriguez and Julee Mikel.

Sheila Boyd was chosen to give the invocation at the meeting. Various comments about the day were: "It was nice to know the city takes an interest in students." And, "It was a learning experience which also was fun." "We really had a worthwhile day," said another.
